FORBES ENCOUNTERS TWO SHE EMI-Register, was out on the highway the other day, when two she'uns came up out of the dust and gobbled him. He tells the story in this wise, We met, and we parted;

We were coming from Trinits and decided to travel in the emigres. The as the only means of keeping the bridle trail in sight; for when in the trail our horse kicked up such a dust, behind and before, as to obscure it entirely. We met a team of lean horses, drawing a wagon fresh from the Plains. The dust was high and the horses light, and we didnt see them till we got to the wagon, where traces of the motive power were discovered. The teamstress was a woman. She bailed us, and asked such a book of questions as was never before marshaled outside the shorter Catechism. She wanted to know if the country was entirely possessed by Yankees; if there were any provoked marshals; any barricks; if there was plenty of water to wash the silver dust; if we used quicksilver; if there was any draft; if democrats were let alone after taking the oath; and finally, if Brigham came here often, and if the Mormons allowed other people to live while the loquacious teamstreet was emptying herself in this wise, a good-looking, healthy piece, apparently, a sixteen-year old, dambered with the sides, her alkali drawers showing well from beneath a short dress, and lit on a bank of sand near by. ling to let our horse rest a minute, we got down and lit on that same bank, because it was near by. The dust cleared off and all was quiet; for we hadn't started in yet after the old gal. We satisfied her on all points, except as to Mormonism. That was too good to spoil. She then started in to conto spoil. She then started in to convince us of the wickedness of Mormonism, and the short-sightedness thereof. After skirmishing for some time, and trying to surprise us, or turn our flank, she came up with her center thus; "You can't make me believe it, and nobody nedn't try; a man isn't no better than a woman or man isn't no better than a woman, except for out-door business or deceit; and no man's no more'n good enough fro me nor that ere daughter o'mine; and a community of that sort you tell me about wont do-they're awfully split up at Salt Lake; there's Dane-ites, and Heberites, and Josephites, and woman fights; and they're grad-nally goin, to hell as a warnin'; and ry of God strikes; for I tell you it'll strike worse'n lightnin' and sure as Christ!" Not till the senior had quit did we observe that the gal in alkali drawers had taken liberties with our person by putting a dusty arm around our clean collar. Horrified thereat, and shocked inwardly by the old gal's talk, we quit, and got away; for Dan Edwards was'nt far off, and we didn't want to be in his way.

If a woman has a heart, she should never suffer it to lie in her bosom as dead capital; it ought to circulate and pay interest.

Most lives, though their stream is loaded with sand and turbid alluvial waste, drop a few golden grains of wisdom as they flow along.

Our new Ally Point d, Severe and Ju

The other day we had occasion to comment not more severely than justly, on the character and spirit of the language user in the pulpit the Sabbath before, by one of the leading men of the Church. In our own feeble and homely way we sound to impress on our readers the evils which necessarily flow from such vulgar discourse from such men. With all our high appreciation of the church organ we hardly expected it to join us in a crusade against obscene speech and lend us a belping hand. But to the last number of the Deseret News (Sept. 21st), we find a leading editorial, on the same subject, which does infinite credit to the editor. Of course he does not say: "Bro. Heber, I'm affer you," but while assuming to read a moral lecture to "young men" on the subject of "Purity of thought and expressiou," our contemporary indulges in strictures which bit between wind and water. Well may the Presdency utter the words " save us from our friends." We are so impressed with the truthfulness and applicability of the News man's remarks on the same subject which engaged our attention the other day, that we can not refrain from reproducing an extract or two. The News article opens with a truism which bears repetition especially at this time, and in view of some of the Tabernacle sermons. It says:

"The force of example and the power of influence are so great, especially upon the young whose minds are but maturing and de-veloping, that we may well be excused briefly taking up the subject under existing circum-

After indulging is a strain of honest invective against babitual swearers and obscene talkers (by way, we suppose, of not appearing too pertinent in the strictures which follow) the article adds :

"Still, there is a class who have acquired the habit of using profane and obscene language, "good fellows" in the main, until it becomes so much a part of their ordinary speech that they are often positively ignorant of doing so. Their ears have become so dead-ened with the familiarity of the sounds that there is no nice moral sense which revolts at it.

Just what we have heard suggested in apology for the sermon we spoke of the other day. But the News man argues with us, that it is no excuse for obscenity, but rather an aggravation. But hear him further. We can not afford to abbreviate the following paragraph, every line of which contains a barbed shaft which strikes the center :

"Conflicting elements cannot continue harmonionaly together. Those who associate together will become like each other in a degree, in habits, manner and language. The stronger minds will act upon the weaker; the older and more matured will influence the younger whose minds are plient and receive impressions easily. [Remember that, bro. Heber. It is your friend who thus lectures you.—En. Venerre.] And phrases that at first grate Barshly upon the ear will soon become so familiar that no attention will be paid to them. As the mind is thus familiarized to loose language and the expression of corrupt thoughts, the line of distinction between right and wrong becomes gradually fainter; de-pravity loses its beingus and disgusting feathe sense thus blunted, and they who would have shuddered at contemplating the possibility of their being accessories to or parwith a careless eye, and by and by find them-selves disgraced before those whose just and righteons actions have commanded their reverence ;--for-

"Vice is a monster of such hideous mien, That to be hated needs but to be seen; But seen too oft, 'smilliar grows its face, We pily first, endure and then embrace'

We cannot improve one whit on the forego. ing. Not only do we enderse it fully, both in its expression and its application-but we commend it to all "whom it may concern."

Notice.-Louis Abler of Company I, 3d Infantry, having received a letter signed T. Graunauer, demanding the sum of $60, which the said Graunauer professes to have paid to defray the traveling expenses of Mrs. Abler from France to this country, previous to her marriage, and which amount he wishes paid to Godard - Henry Godard of Camp Douglas, wishes to state that he has no knowledge whatever of any of the circumstances conneeted with this affair.

Hinerris held forth on Saturday night to a crowded house in the espacious building known as Music Hall, two blocks west of the Market house. Having received the usual (?) complimentary tickets we availed ourselves of the pleasure of being present. The music was sweet, the jokes pungent, and what is not always the accompaniment of theatrical representations in this community, there was a spirit of loyalty and patriotic sentiment pervading the entire performance. The minstrels are as noted for their loyalty as they deserve to be for their courtesy. The hall was handsomely decorated with American Flags, and the tout ensemble appropriate and pleasing.

By advertisement in another column it will be seen that the Minstrels hold forth again tonight at the same place, with new songs, dances, jokes, etc. We need not urge-for we are safe in predicting-a crowded house. If oppressed with melancholy, we commend a visit to Music Hall this eve.

RE-OPENING OF THE EASTERN MAIL ROUTE .-We are anxiously expecting the large arrearages of mail matter due us from the East, and ages of mail matter due us from the East, and to-morrow calling the people to arms. hope such a stoppage may not soon take place. Trains from the Mountain railroad are still again. A failure to receive the mail for some weeks, does, it is true, enable us better to appreciate our letters and papers when received-but we think we have now learned the lesson sufficiently for this seasor.

· REVIEW AND INSPECTION.—The troops at Camp Douglas will be paraded on Friday morning next at 10 o'clock, a. m., for review and inspection, by the General commanding the District. The usual concourse of visitors will doubtless be in attendance from the city. Officers and men of the Territorial Militiacannot do better than be present and learn something on that occasion.

THANKS .- The sub-editor-local and hands employed in the VEDETTE office, return thanks to Mr. Frank Fox of Salt Lake City, for a superb basket of mammoth peaches, luscious plums, etc., etc., which were by the aforesaid employees of the VEDETTE, received with much pleasure and discussed with great satisfaction. Mr. Fox evidently knows how to do things. and his fruit, etc., are always the best brought ACKNOWLEDGMENTS .- We are requested by Rev. J. B. Reverdy, of Denver City, Colorado Territory, (at present temporarily sojourning here.) to return his thanks to the officers and men who have so generously contributed of their means towards defraying his expenses while on his present mission to Virginia City, Montana Territory, and the adjacent country.

THE DANCE.-We attended the dance given at the Camp Theater on Monday evening last, and have since been vividly impressed with the notion that we enjoyed ourself prodigiously. The managers used every effort to promote the comfort of those present, and but few, we think, left the Hall dissatisfied with the party.

THE SACRAMENTO UNION .- This paper entered upon its twelfth volume on the 19th of September. The Union has always stood nobly and unflinchingly by the Government, and for a long number of years has been the most popular, and has wielded the widest influence of any paper published on the Pacific coast.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.

Active operations in Missouri.

Additional from St. Louis. Military prepa rations here have been very active and troops are already moving Southward. The black smith shops are busy all day shoeing cavalry horses, and ordnance stores are being sent to different points. Everything is being put in fine trim for immediate and active service. Gen. Pike has called all the enrolled militia out, and Gen. Rosecrans will issue an appeal running, and so far as known, the railroad has not yet been molested.

Sheridan still Driving the Enemy-More Prisoners sent in-General news.

Washington, Sept. 26th. Dispatches from Sheridan to 11 o'clock Sat-urday night, dated six miles south of New-market, are received. He had driven the enemy from Mount Jackson without being able to bring on a general engagement. The enemy were moving rapidly and he has no cav-alry at present to hold them. Tarbett had at-tacked Wyckham's force at Surrey and captured a number of prisoners. Sheridan found rebel hospitals in all the towns from Winchester to Newmarket. Twenty pièces of artillery were captured at Fishers Hill, together with 1,100 prisoners, a large amount of ammunition, caissons, limbers, and a large quantity of entrenching tools and small arms; no hist of the captured materials has yet been received. The small towns through the valley contain a great many of the rebel wounded. Stevens reports the arrival at Harper's Ferry of a train of our wounded, twenty captured guns and eighty additional captured officers. Breckenridge has gone to take command of the rebel department of the southwest.

Dispatches received this morning from Sherman's command state that Hood appears to be moving towards the Alabama lines in strong The rebel raiders are reported operating against Sherman's communications, and captured Athens, Alabama. Vigorous exertions are being made to overtake and de-stroy this force. Jeff. Davis is reported to be at Macon.

Reports are also received from Maj. General Canby. Gen Steele has been strongly reinforced and had taken the offensive.

Dispatches from Gen. Grant dated at 10 o'clock last night, report no military operations. The above comprises the substance of the military information proper for publication received up to the present date by this department. Signed: STANTON.

Cotton---Fortifications to be erected, etc. New York, Sept. 26th.

The Commercial's special, says: That a gentleman just from Montgomery, reports 480.000 bales of cotton in that city and vicinity.

It is saidthe military authorities are about to erect extensive fortifications at each of the Gaps in the Shenandoah valley, to prevent further raids.

The North Star from Aspinwall the 17th, says: That $460,000 in specie arrived at Panama. The papers contain no news.

Correspondence between the President and Blair-Resignation of the Latter. Washington, Sept. 23rd.

To Montgomery Blair-You have generous ly said to me, more than once, that whenever your resignation could be a relief to me, it was at my disposal. The time has come. You very well know that this proceeds from no dissatisfaction of mine with you, personally or officially. Your uniform kindness has been unsurpassed by that of any friend. It would only make trouble in your department and in those of some others. It is yet much to say that in the three years and a balf during which you have administered the General Post-office, I remember no single complaint against you in connection therewith. Signed: A. Washington, Sept. 26th.

Forrest, with his whole force advanced upon and destroyed the Sulphur Springs trestle work, yesterday. Col. Pace, commanding the Eik river bridge, evacuated that Post at daylight, and Forrest took possession this morning. His force is estimated at 7,000, with three batteries. On Saturday, in the fight at Athens, 500 men of the 6th and 8th Indiana cavalry were captured by Forrest. He is represented to have butchered all the negroes captured who were the Federal uniform.

News from Sheridan.

From a dispatch captured on a Confederate staff officer, it appears that Early was instruc-ted by Lee to hold the vailey at all hazards. Sheridan is still pursuing him, picking up prisoners all along the road. It is stated on reliable authority, that the prisoners captured within the past three days, will number 3,000. No fears need be entertained of the enemy making a raid in any considerable force on Sheridan's rear by crossing through Laurasy valley.

Miscellaneous.

Washington, Sept. 26th.

It is not believed here that Early will be able to reach Staunton with one-third of his original command.

Reinforcements have been sent to Sheridan from this vicinity and have reached Strasburg. Many of the rebel wounded who hid away among citizens in that village, have been handed over to our troops.

St. Louis, Sept. 26th. On the recommendation of Mayor Thomas and many leading men in this city, Rosecrans has issued an order suspending all business not absolutely necessary. after 12 o clock to morrow, for the purpose of the organization of citizens for loyal defense. Exempts are requested to join this organization. At 5 p. m. The sixth corps attacked, followed by the 19th, while Averill swept along the base of the north mountain outward seven miles, and captured 175 cavalry horses, four caissons, fourteen wagons, eight ambulances and a number of fugitives. The enemy having probably learnfugitives. The enemy having probably learned of the movement upon his right, had commenced leaving his position some two hours before our attack, and his departure was so hasty that he was compelled to leave sixteen guns and over 1.000 prisoners in our hands. Yesterday morning the pursuit of the enemy was promptly continued by our cavalry and he was found in position at Mount Jackson, 25 miles south of Fisher Hill, where he seems disposed to offer a stubborn resistance.

disposed to offer a stubborn resistance.

Yesterday morning. Early's rear was overtaken near Hampton bridge by Gen. Averill with his cavalry, division, and a brigade of Gen. Devlin's, and driven to the town of Mount Jackson, where his active force was found in position. Maj. Laddy, commanding two battalions, was captured with several provided. privates. Our cavalry pressed the enemy with great vigilance and success, until he brought up an infantry division with artillery, and they held them in check until the arrival of the 6th corps, which found them in the same position this afternoon offering a stub-born resistance. Gen. Averil was relieved from duty with his division this afternoon. and was granted leave of absence for twenty days. This order caused a universal feeling of amazement in the army, and it is generally thought some question of rank between Gen. Averil and Gen. Torbitt, is involved—the former being the ranking officer, but lately chief of cavalry of this military division. There is a prospect of another engagement in front.

A BOLD PERIPATETIC. -There is a certain irrepressible Union man, not having the fear of Copperheadism before his eyes, who per-ambulates Montgomery, street in open day, exhorting and rebuking with a truly apostolic zeal. Being endowed by nature with a tem-perament that knows no such emotion as fear, and with a pair of lungs which Stentor him-self might have envied, he has made himself a nuisance, a terror, and a bugbear to "Peace Democrats." Yesterday we found him in front of a cigar store on Montgomery street, expounding the "abolition doctrine" to a knot of indignant and astounded Copperheads, with a pungency and plainness of speech that was truly refreshing. The cigar-vender requested the Lincoln missionary "to hold his meeting somewhere else, as he was intertering with his (the tobacco man's) business." Whereupon the coater, throwing himself into one of those impressive attitudes so familiar to jurymen in the Admiralty Courts where he is wont to ful-minate like a Supiter Tonans of jurisprudence, said: "Sir. I dare say I am interfering with your trade, but I can't help it; you will have to stand it. In revolutionary times private in-terests must give way to public welfare."

We find the following in the R. R. Reveille of Sept. 2 st:

S. Cavalry, numbering one hundred and seventy-five men, under command of Capt. Colder, arrived at Jacobsville last night, and will be in this city to-day.

To THEIR WINTER QUARTERS.—Company B.

GENERAL McDowell AT PUGET SOUND. —The Puget Sound (Stellacoom, W. T.) Herald of August 29th says: "Accompanied by a staff of six officers, General McDowell left Victoria on August 24th, on the revenue steamer Shabrick, to proceed on his tour of observation up the Sound. After visiting San Juan Island and Port Townsend, he proceeded to Point Defiance (which, it is thought, will be soon fortified,) where the steamer anchored for some hours. At an early hour yesterday morning, the steamer made her appearance off this town. Engaging vehicles to convey them to the fort, the General and staff proceeded thither between nine and ten o'clock, and were received by the commanding officer, Captain E. H. Tucker, with the proper salute; in which Governor Pickering, who bore them company was included. The General expressed himself well pleased with his visit, and gives Captain Tucker much credit for the excellent condition in which he found the post, and the dicipline observable in his command. After a stay of several hours, devoted to a hasty examination of the various departments of the station, and a brief conversation with the commandant, the General returned with his staff to town, whence they departed on the steamer for Olympia, to proceed thence overland to the Co-Jumbia river. From Fort Vancouver, General McDowell will extend his tour to Fort Walla Walla."

THE END DRAWS NIGH .- No man can reasonably entertain any idea that we shall have peace until one side or the other is conquered and gives up the contest. A divided Union is utterly impracticable. The Southern Confederacy must extend to the Northern lakes, or the Federal Union must subdue the rebellion and remain intact, one and undivided. Any compromise of the questions at issue will prove futile. A glance at the present condition of things must be anything but encouraging to the rebel leaders. They have forced into the field their entire fighting population; and if they gain victories they will purchase them at an expense of men that can-not be replaced. But they are gaining ground nowhere. Sherman is in the heart of Georgia, thundering at the gates of Atlanta. [He is inside of them.] Grant is gradually tight-ening his coil around Richmond, sapping the grand sources of Lee's supplies. Farfagut has accomplished grand achievements at Mobile.— Charleston, little less than a ruin, is closely invested. The rebels are powerless to avert the impending doom which inevitably awaits them. The question is one now of endurance. How long can they hold out? We believe the problem is rapidly approaching its solution. It would have been solved ere this but for the trait- French Lawns, Chambrays, Calicoes, orous Copperhead party at the North, whose every act has been to embarrass the Administration, and throw obstacles in the way of a vigorous prosecution of the war. Blind serpents! With the history of the Cow Boys and Tories of the Revolution fresh in their memories, can they not In Fact Everything in the Ladies' Line. imagine what their own future will be? They and their descendants must wear upon their foreheads the brand of infamy through all coming time. Debarred from all positions of public trust within the Union (not as it was, but as it is to be)-shut out from the fellowship of freemen-objects of public scorn and contempt-Arnolds all -they will go down to their dishon-ored graves "unwept, unhonored and ansung." Against the light of reason and the intelligence of the age, they are wilfully bringing these fearful The Highest Price Paid for Gold penalties upon their own heads. -- San Jose Mercury.
